OLDER MEN NOW HAVE A CHANCE TO ENROLL FOR SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY

Next Thursday, Sept. 12, is the day set by the President for the enrolling of the added forces of the United States which shall put the extra punch in the wallop which will lay out the Hun and end the war.

All men from 18 to 45 years of age will on that day enroll for military service, except those already registered and those now in military or naval service of the United States.

President Wilson says:

"To register now for selection for military service is to list yourself as one of the Nation's power units. Every citizen owes it to himself and to his country to make this day a unanimous demonstration of loyalty, patriotism, and the will to win. This registration is America's announcement to the world that we are ready to complete the task already begun with such emphatic success."

The Big Wallop

Gen. Peyton C. Meyer says: "With an American army of 4,000,000 men in France we can go through the German line wherever we please!"

The army is now almost two million strong. To get the rest the government has let down the bars—men of 18 to 45 are to furnish the needed strength to free the world from Kaiserism forever.

The chance of the older men has come. September 12 will be as great a day in the history of the country as was the first registration day last year when the men of 21 to 30 enrolled.

This time it is expected about 13,000,000 men will enroll. After the draft boards have weeded out the physically unfit, those whose duty lies at home because of dependents or war industry, there must remain more than 2,000,000 men ready for training. These may not have the elasticity of youth, nor some of the other qualities which make American boys such wonderful soldiers, but they will make up for other deficiencies in maturity of judgment and steadiness of purpose.

What Will be Asked

All male persons who shall have attained their 18th birthday and who shall not have attained their 46th birthday on or before next Thursday, Sept. 12, must register, except those who have registered under the previous draft acts, or those in the military or naval service of the United States.

To save time and avoid errors all registrants should have the following information ready upon presenting themselves before the registering officer. If you can't remember it all, take along a written memorandum. The registration officer will do all the writing.

1. State your name in full, spelling out each name in order.
2. Permanent home address. This means where you reside, not where you work, nor where you were born, unless you really live there. Give number, street, city, county and state.
3. Age in years. State your age in years only, disregarding additional months or days.
4. Date of birth, giving day, month and year.
5. White? _____
6. Negro? _____
7. Oriental? _____
8. Indian, citizen? _____
9. Indian, non-citizen? _____
10. United States citizen, native born? _____

11. United States citizen, naturalized? _____

12. Citizen by father's naturalization before registrant's majority. _____

13. Alien declarant? _____ If although a citizen of another country you have declared before a naturalization court your intention to become a citizen of the United States you are a "declarant alien." Commonly referred to as "taking out first papers."

14. Non-declarant alien? _____ This applies if you are a citizen or subject of some other country and have not declared before a naturalization court your intention to become a citizen of the United States.

15. If not a citizen of the United States, of what nation are you a citizen or subject? _____

16. Present occupation? This means your present occupation, trade or employment, not what you once did, nor what you have done most of your time nor what you are best fitted to do. Simply say what your job is right now, as farmer, miner, banker, clerk in grocery, laborer, on farm, mill or shop, etc. If you hold an office under state or federal government, name the office.

17. Employers' name, whether working for individual, firm or corporation, give the name. If working for yourself, so state. If you hold a public office, say whether under the government, state, county, or city.

18. Place of employment or business—where you work. Give number and name of street, city, county and state.

19. Name of nearest relative. If you are married and your wife is living, give her name. If you are single or your wife is dead give the name of nearest blood relative. If you are single and have no blood relative, the name of a close friend should be given.

20. Address of nearest relative or friend.

Penalty for Failure

The penalty for failing to register is one year's imprisonment and no man can escape merely with the payment of a fine. But the worst punishment will be the branding of the man who refuses to register as un-American and unfit for the protection of the American government.

Men who will be necessarily absent from home on registration day should go before the nearest board and register at once and register so that their registration cards may be sent to the home board promptly and arrive there by Sept. 12.

Where to Register

In Sierra Madre, the registration will be by precincts, with places of registration at the regular voting places. The registration officers are members of the last election boards, as follows:

- Precinct 1: Sierra Madre Inn, officials, Greer Caskey and H. J. Potter. Territory west of Baldwin and north of Highland. The center line of the street is the line of division between the precincts.
- Precinct 2: 41 No. Baldwin, officials, F. J. Ford and C. C. McIntyre. Territory south of Highland and west of Baldwin.
- Precinct 3: 144 No. Mountain Trail Ave.; officials, John Boyd, J. H. Wright.
- Registration places will be open from 7 a. m., to 9 p. m.

SRGT. STEINBERGER AT HOME ON SHORT LEAVE AFTER HOT TIME AT CHATEAU THIERRY

Fresh from service on the most active part of the front at Chateau Thierry, Sgt., Harvey H. Steinberger arrived home on Thursday for a ten-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Steinberger, and all the home folk.

Only a month ago he bade adieu to the other Sierra Madre boys of the 117th Engineers, after three weeks of the most strenuous kind of fighting, in the big drive which began on July 16th. The engineers were used as shock troops and went through what was said to be the heaviest bombardment since Verdun. They then took part in the chase of the routed Germans and saw it through till the big performance was transferred to another part of the front.

Sent as Instructor

Sgt. Steinberger is sent home for special duty as an instructor at one of the army camps in Virginia. He leaves on the 15th to report for duty. He is one of about fifty from his regiment who came over for the purpose. He crossed on the Leviathan, formerly the Vaterland.

Boys All Well

All the Sierra Madre boys in the 117th are reported by Sgt. Steinberger to have been well and sound when he saw them a month ago. None of them has even been wounded, Sgt. Raymond Adelmeyer having the closest call when a shell struck the tent which he occupied and blew to shreds a man who was in the tent with him. Sgt. Adelmeyer suffered a few days from shell shock and the harrowing experience, but felt no permanent effects from it.

The three boys in Co. E of the 117th Engineers have all been made sergeants, being John C. Olsen and Raymond Adelmeyer, the latter recently promoted from corporal. Sgt. Wade Fallis, Robert Clark and Ben Medley are all attached to the Headquarters company. While this company is not ordinarily stationed as near the front as the rest of the regiment, the men get their share of active work and on one occasion the Hun artillery managed to get the range so well that the headquarters had to move or be demolished.

Varied Experiences

In their ten months of service in France the 117th Engineers saw about every variety of service that falls to the lot of the troops. They were first assigned to the Lorraine sector, and later to the Champagne front. They served as pioneers, sappers, construction units in all kinds of work, infantry and shock troops.

The Rainbow Division made a name for itself and was given three separate citations by the French commander under whom they served.

Wherever Sgt. Steinberger went today he was halted for an affectionate greeting which was both personal and also typical of the feeling which all have for the boys who are fighting our battles. Whenever he would stop for a greeting he would soon have an interested audience and could have held them all day.

Through all his narrative of interesting experiences Sgt. Steinberger is exceedingly modest and it is only on rare occasions that anything of a personal nature slips into the talk. He much prefers to talk about the boys in general.

Reception Tonight

The public reception which it was planned to tender to Sgt. Steinberger will take the form of an open air meeting at the band stand this evening. An opportunity will be given for all his friends to meet and hear him.

Masonic Reception

Next Monday night Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408 of which Sgt. Steinberger is an honored member, will hold a special session in his honor, to which all members of the fraternity are invited.

MISS GREGORY TAKES CHARGE OF LIBRARY

Miss Marian S. Gregory who was engaged as librarian by the library trustees, assumed charge on Monday.

Miss Gregory comes highly recommended from the librarian school of the Los Angeles public library, of which she is a graduate. Before taking her library course she had the advantage of a special course in literature at Pomona college. Since completing her library course she has been employed in the Los Angeles library, both in the main library and some of the branches.

In the years since the library has been under municipal control the trustees, through the efforts of the book committee, have succeeded in building up a collection of books which is remarkable for a town the size of Sierra Madre. In engaging a librarian with technical training and the vigor which the position demands, the library trustees felt that they were merely providing for the most efficient expenditure of the library funds. Their sole aim is to make the library of the greatest possible service to the largest number of people in the community. They believe the public will find Miss Gregory's assistance in making use of the library most valuable after she has had opportunity to familiarize herself with the book list.

GREAT QUANTITY OF FRUIT PUT UP

In spite of a shortage of help the work of putting up fruit and vegetables has been going on at a good rate in the domestic science building of the public school. 363 pounds of finished product attest the industry of the ladies who have been helping. This includes canned fruit and vegetables, jams, pickles, jellies and dried fruit. It will be divided between the Red Cross, Belgian Relief and domestic science department.

Mrs. Jessica Hazzard, government food demonstrator and a representative of the National Council of Defense, will be at the domestic science building on Tuesday all day, to show ways of canning, preserving and drying fruit with very little sugar. All ladies are invited.

More fruit is wanted for putting up, and more workers are needed. Bring anything that can be canned, pickled, preserved, dried, etc.

It is requested that all sealing tin cans, such as karo or Crisco containers, be saved and sent to the building as soon as possible. They are greatly needed in the work.

CAPTURED HUN TANK REPAIRED BY FRENCH

The tank seen in this French official photograph was captured by the French in the recent heavy fighting on the western front. The tank was demolished by the heavy French gunfire and it took these crafty Frenchmen twelve days of work under enemy fire to put it in order again. The photograph shows the French crew which repaired the tank and which is operating it with great results against the enemy.

TO REACH SIERRA MADRE

By Trolley—Take Sierra Madre cars leaving hourly at Pacific Electric station, Sixth and Main, Los Angeles. The scenic ride is the most beautiful on the P. E. system. From Pasadena, take Lamanda Park car and change at Lamanda Park Junction.

By Auto—From Los Angeles, take North Broadway or Mission Road to Huntington Drive, follow as far as Lamanda Park Junction, east on Colorado Street to Santa Anita, north to Foothill Boulevard, east to Sierra Madre Avenue, north to Central Avenue, Sierra Madre.

IDEAL HOME COMMUNITY

Sierra Madre's peculiar charm has been felt and praised by nearly everyone who ever visited or lived here. Many factors combine to make the charm potent—the sense of exaltation in life on the heights; the inspiring views; the invigorating air, kept pure by currents moving continually up and down the foothill slope; the feeling of intimacy with the nearby mountains; the ease with which a love for outdoor life and recreation is gratified; the great variety of available homesites; the conveniences of the city with all the joys of life in the country.

It is as a home community that Sierra Madre claims pre-eminence. Here you can have a small house and lot, a larger place with fruit and a garden plot, or acres with an orchard. Everything grows well here and Sierra Madre has suffered less from frost than any other community in the citrus region.

No community has a higher type of citizenship. Socially and morally Sierra Madre ranks high. There is a cosmopolitan population recruited from all over the world, a fact of keen interest to many people. "Over the top" a community habit in patriotic efforts. HIGH OFFICERS GO ON RECORD

No Possible Evasion of Responsibility for Bestial Acts Which for Centuries Have Had No Parallel—

The people of the United States are beginning to learn the truth concerning the conduct of the war by Germany. Proof is offered that German officials deliberately lied in their statements concerning atrocities committed by the Belgians and allies. That their own soldiers were disgusted by the cruelties practiced at the order of high officers of the kaiser is shown. Extracts taken from pamphlets issued follow:

The Vorwaerts of Berlin, October 22, 1914, said:

"We have already been able to establish the falseness of a great number of assertions which have been made with great precision and published everywhere in the press, concerning alleged cruelties committed by the populations of the countries with which Germany is at war, upon German soldiers and civilians. We are now in position to silence two others of these fantastic stories.

"The war correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt spoke a few weeks ago of cigars and cigarettes filled with powder alleged to have been given out or sold to our soldiers with diabolical intent. He even pretended that he had seen with his own eyes hundreds of this kind of cigarettes. We learn from an authentic source that this story of cigars and cigarettes is nothing but a brazen invention. Stories of soldiers whose eyes are alleged to have been torn out by franc-tireurs are circulated throughout Germany. Not a single case of this kind has been officially established.

"It matters little that reports of this nature bear an appearance of positive certitude, or are even vouched for by eye-witnesses. The desire for notoriety, the absence of criticism, and personal error play an unfortunate part in the days in which we are living. Every nose shot off or simply bound up, every eye removed, is immediately transformed into a nose or eye torn away by the franc-tireurs. Already the Volkszeitung of Cologne has been able, contrary to the very categorical assertions from Aix-la-Chapelle, to prove that there was no soldier with his eyes torn out in the field ambulance of this town. It was said, also, that people wounded in this way were under treatment in the neighborhood of Berlin, but whenever inquiries have been made in regard to these reports, their absolute falsity has been demonstrated. At length these reports were concentrated at Gross Lichterfelde. A newspaper published at noon and widely circulated in Berlin printed a few days ago in large type the news that at the Lazaretto of Lichterfelde alone there were ten German soldiers, only slightly wounded, whose eyes had been wickedly torn out. But to a request for information by Comrade Liebknecht the following written reply was sent by the chief medical officer of the above-mentioned field hospital, dated the eighteenth of the month:

"Sir: Happily there is no truth whatever in these stories.

"Yours obediently,
"PROFESSOR RAUTENBERG," German Soldiers Protested.

Thus the teachings of the German War Book and of the German apostles of frightfulness, suspicion and hatred, had now begun to bear their natural fruit. But the voice of protest was not entirely silent. A considerable number of letters by German soldiers who were shocked by the German atrocities were sent to Ambassador Gerard, because he was the representative of the United States, the leading neutral nation. The three letters which follow, in translation, were received by the American ambassador from German soldiers.

Here is the protest of a German soldier, an eye-witness of the slaughter of Russian soldiers in the Masurian lakes and swamps:

"It was frightful, heart-rending, as these masses of human beings were driven to destruction. Above the terrible thunder of the cannon could be heard the heart-rending cries of the Russians: 'O Prussians! O Prussians!'—but there was no mercy. Our captain had ordered: 'The whole lot must die; so rapid fire.' As I have heard, five men and one officer on our side went mad from these heart-rending cries. But most of my comrades and the officers joked as the unarmed and helpless Russians shrieked for mercy while they were being suffocated in the swamps and shot down. The order was: 'Close up and at it harder!' For days afterwards those heart-rending yells followed me and I dare not think of them or I shall go mad. There is no God, there is no morality and no ethics any more. There are no human beings any more, but only beasts. Down with militarism.

"If you are a truth-loving man, please receive these lines from a common Prussian soldier."

Following is the testimony of another

German soldier on the eastern front:

"Russian Poland, December 18, '14.
"In the name of Christianity I send you these words.

"Wounded Russians are killed with the bayonet according to orders.

"And Russians who have surrendered are often shot down in masses according to orders, in spite of their heart-rending prayers.

"In the hope that you, as the representative of a Christian state, will protest against this, I sign myself,
"A GERMAN SOLDIER AND CHRISTIAN."

The third letter, from the western front, shows the same horror of the system of which the writer was a witness.

"To the American Government, Washington, U. S. A.

"Englishmen who have surrendered are shot down in small groups. With the French one is more considerate. I ask whether men let themselves be taken prisoner in order to be disarmed and shot down afterward? Is that chivalry in battle? It is no longer a secret among the people; one hears everywhere that few prisoners are taken; they are shot down in small groups. They say naively: 'We don't want any unnecessary mouths to feed. Where there is no one to enter complaint, there is no judge.' Is there then no power in the world which can put an end to these murders and rescue the victims? Where is Christianity? Where is right? Might is right.

"A SOLDIER AND A MAN WHO IS NO BARBARIAN."

Socialists Oppose System

Many of the Germans, as has been already indicated, do not believe the reports of the atrocities committed by the Belgian civilians and refuse to accept the system of frightfulness. The Vorwaerts, the leading socialist paper, which has a very wide circle of readers, has opposed the policy of frightfulness. All honor to its editors who have so courageously opposed the powerful military authority! Its editorial, entitled "Our Foes," published August 23, 1914, reads as follows:

"What should one say when even such an organ as the Deutsches Offizier-Blatt expresses its sympathy with a demand that 'the beasts' who are taken as franc-tireurs should not be killed, but only wounded so that they may then be left to a fate 'which makes any help impossible'? Or what should we say when the Deutsches Offizier-Blatt states that 'a punitive destruction even of whole regions' cannot 'afford full recompense for the bones of a single murdered Pomeranian grenadier'? Those are the desires of blood-thirsty fanatics and we are thoroughly ashamed of ourselves because it is possible that there are people among us who urge such things."

"Barbarism," Declares Vorwaerts.
On the following day, August 24, 1914, the Vorwaerts returned to the attack in an editorial "Against Barbarism."

"One might, in the first place, possibly believe that such a demand for a bloody vengeance [against alleged Belgian outrages] emanates from a single disease-racked brain; but it appears that whole groups among certain classes who represent German kultur want to indulge in orgies of barbarism and to devise a whole system for the purpose of organizing 'a war of revenge.'

"What of law and custom! Such thoughts do not stir a 'great nation.' Thus in a leading article of the Berliner Neueste Nachrichten, the demand is made that all the authorities in Brussels—one, the second burgomaster, is generously excepted—should be immediately seized and subjected to trial in order to expiate the wrongs which, according to fragmentary and highly uncertain reports, were said to have been committed by the people. They demand that the captured city should immediately pay a fine of 500,000,000 marks; that all stores of the conquered territory be requisitioned without paying the inhabitants a single penny for them."

Vorwaerts in Protest.

Three years later, August 26, 1917, the Vorwaerts quoted the following passage from the Deutsche Tageszeitung:

"We have a ring of politicians who hold that might makes right (Macht-politik), who despise the forces of the inner life and believe that they must eliminate all ethical points of view . . . from foreign and social politics. For them, Germany of the present and of the future is the country of the Krupps and Borsigs, of the Zeppelins and the U-boats. Any idea of a connection between politics and morals is rejected and any reference to the right of a moral method of consideration is ridiculed as delusion and sentimentality."

The German officers were provided with the forms to be used in terrorizing the conquered people. The common soldiers were provided with phrase books which would enable them to impose their will upon the terrified people. Minister Brand Whitlock in his report to the state department on September 12, 1917, writes:

"The German soldiers were provided with phrase books giving alternate translation in German and French of such sentences as:

"Hands up. (It is the very first sentence in the book.)

"Carry out all the furniture.

"I am thirsty. Bring me some beer, gin, rum.

"You have to supply a barrel of wine and a keg of beer.

"Lead me to the wealthiest inhabitants of this village. I have orders to requisition several barrels of wine.

"Show us the way to ——. If you lead us astray, you will be shot."

BOARD OF TRADE
FIRST FALL MEETING

After the customary summer vacation the regular monthly meetings of the Board of Trade will be resumed next Monday night, when the September session will be held in the city hall at 8 o'clock.

Jellies Make Good Drink.

With la grippe and feverish colds, cooling drinks are in demand. Chilled fruit juices are always acceptable, whether it is the juice of raw fruits, such as lemons, limes, oranges or grape fruit or the cooled liquids around cooked dried fruit or preserves.
Mix with water, sweeten slightly, and put in a teaspoonful of shaved ice.
Tart jellies make a refreshing drink, especially currant jelly. A nourishing drink is made by mixing the water off boiled rice with orange juice or currant jelly and water. Lemonade is made tasty with a dash of nutmeg.

Knew All About It.

Class, Boston, U. S. A.—Now, will one of you young gentlemen tell me what a binnacle is?
Freshwater Student From Chicago,
U. S. A.—A binnacle is a little shell fish that attaches itself to a ship below the water line.—Christian Science

Gulls in the Hencoop.

A curious custom of the Newfoundland fishermen is that of keeping seagulls of a large species as domestic fowls. They capture the young while they are nestlings, and rear them on fish, confining them in pens. Their eggs are eaten, and, for lack of a turkey or goose for Christmas, the fisherman is satisfied with a selection from his coop of fattened gulls.

Had Not Changed Much.

A negro, who was so singularly lazy as to be quite a problem, got converted in a revival. His associates in the church were extremely anxious to know whether he would not bestir himself and go to work. The negro attended a meeting and offered a prayer,
in which occurred the petition:
"Use me, Lord, use me—in an advisory capacity."
